Friends reunion ends in tragedy

A reunion of old friends ended in tragedy last week. Randall Peden, 27, a resident of Alabama, was pronounced dead on arrival at Annapolis Hospital July 10 following what police believe to be an accidental shooting. According to Romulus police, at about 5:30 p.m. last Wednesday, a call was received from Roger Maggard, 31, regarding a shooting in the south end of the city. Police arrived and found Peden shot in the head. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Annapolis Hospital. Apparently, a heated argument arose between the two prior to the accident. According to police, Maggard had taken a .22 caliber pistol from his friend believing that Peden was intoxicated and intended to do something foolish. "Maggard said he had never seen his friend this wild before and he thought taking away the gun would be the best thing," said Romulus Detective Sgt. John Meyers. Peden, a 6-foot, 6-inch, 325-pound man, then began to actively threaten the life of Maggard and his family, according to Meyers. He began to push and make comments about "blowing them away," Meyers said. Fearing for his life and the lives of his family members, Maggard took out the gun and allegedly pointed it at the head of his friend, asking him to listen to reason and walk away. "Peden then lunged at him and grabbed the gun, triggering it to go off," said Meyers. "He was shot directly in the head." Maggard was brought into custody and later released due to insufficient evidence of malice or negligence, according to police. "The two grew up together and Maggard is at least as upset as anyone else would be about what he's done," said Maggard's attorney, William Swor. "He is relieved to have not been charged in this case and holds himself accountable for his actions," Meyers said. The case has been closed and will only be investigated should there be additional evidence, police said.

More metro money sought for plans

Romulus residents may soon be seeing the effects of additional millions of dollars of funds for improvements at Detroit Metro Airport. The Subcommittee on Transportation Appropriations has approved the request for $10 million in federal construction funds, and passed it on to the full Appropriations Committee where it will be considered this week. The additional funds would be used to continue construction of an access road to the new mid-field terminal planned at the airport, according to Congressman William D. Ford. The road is an integral part of the $1 billion package of improvements at the airport, he said. "It's another payment toward construction of the road that is the key to expansion," said Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara. Already under construction thanks to "start up" funds won by Ford and Congressman John D. Dingell in 1989, the new airport entrance will provide access from the south and east. The entry point will be located off Eureka Road between Wayne and Merriman Roads. It will run through the airport property, pass under two runways and end up above ground at the new terminal. "It is a good use of the tax dollars that Michigan is sending to Washington, because our people and our state's economy will benefit directly," he said. Both Congressmen cited fellow Michigan Congressman Bob Carr for his assistance in guiding the airport dollars through the subcommittee process. They expect the Detroit Metro new layout will be a model for other airports around the country.

Districts to join forces for education

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

For the second consecutive year, Romulus Community Schools and Van Buren Public Schools have joined forces to keep adult and alternative education programs on the move. Both districts approved a one-year contract Monday which channels state school-aid dollars to about 700 Romulus students through the Van Buren district. "Since we became an out-of-formula school district last year, we have to rely on in-formula schools to help us get state aid," said Dr. William Bedell, Romulus superintendent of schools. Because of new commercial and industrial growth in the city, Romulus became an out-of-formula district, which means the schools can no longer rely on state aid for their existence. Unfortunately, according to Bedell, this could mean no money for additional education programs. It is for this reason that the district must sign a consortium with another close-by system, the superintendent explained.

"It turns out to be a good deal for both of us," Bedell said. Thanks to the contract, Romulus will receive sufficient funds to run adult and alternative education programs as the district has in the past and, for their efforts in bookkeeping, hiring teachers and doing other state-required paperwork, Van Buren will keep about 20 percent of the state-funded money, Bedell said. Romulus should get about $1.2 million for the programs in the next year, according to Jack Hosmer, business manager for Van Buren district. Van Buren could make about $200,000, he said. According to Hosmer, Van Buren bid against two other districts for the privilege of administering the Romulus program last year. "It was an opportunity to help the budget and Van Buren stepped up to it," he said in an earlier interview. The money collected was used for early payoff of an energy bill, and Hosmer believes it will be used for similar one-time expenditures this year. That way, the district would not become dependent of the contractual income, he said. "We worked so well together last year, that we requested renewal of the contract for 1991-92, and we hope to keep up the good rapport in the future," said Bedell. "We're glad to have Van Buren as a fiscal agent," he said.

Romulus fired up about arson issue

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

For the first time, Romulus residents will have an opportunity to learn more about what to do in case of a fire. A grant of $4,000 was approved for arson investigation, training and equipment for the city of Romulus July 5, and programs will soon be put into effect. "We haven't actually gotten the grant money yet, so we're not sure of the exact guidelines, but we do know that residents of Romulus will soon be informed about how to respond in a case of arson," said William Greenslait, Romulus fire chief. An application for the grant was submitted to the Department of Commerce last fall for an amount exceeding $100,000. It was proposed by the fire department in an effort to increase public awareness in many areas. To date, it is not known which area of the proposal has been accepted. "We may not have gotten all the funding we asked for, but we feel fortunate to have gotten what we did, and we're very grateful," Greenslait said. "There are numerous fires which take place in the city throughout the year, many of which are suspicious in nature," Greenslait said. "Many times, we are called to investigate and have an extremely hard time finding any witnesses. "Hopefully, through the programs we implement, we can make the public aware that we're looking for their help with this problem. Any small detail may be more important than they think, and may help us solve a case of arson," he said. Although exact plans are not yet complete, Greenslait said the money will definitely be used for education of school-children and adults in the area. Programs may be implemented which will involve visits to schools and work places. "We're very pleased to have gotten the grant, and whatever programs we implement, we hope to be successful in making the public aware," Greenslait said.

Romulus horsemen join Sumpter parade

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Romulus riders and their horses will be featured in the 15th annual Sumpter Country Fest parade at noon Saturday.

Robin Estes of Romulus will be riding her Appaloosa horse, Red Bandana, and David West will round-up three horses from the Triple W Boarding Stable to appear in the parade. Other horses from the Michigan Racking Horse Show Association, the Sumpter Horsemen's Association and the Outriders Club will participate in the march down Sumpter Road from Judd to the community center.

The country fest officially opens on Friday to crowds of area residents seeking an old-fashioned festival with a country flavor. To add a twist to the traditional festival events, Sherman Arnold will gyrate to the music of Elvis Presley, as he performs his Tribute to Elvis at 8 p.m. June 21 and an amateur boxing match will be staged at noon Sunday.

At noon Saturday, some 40 units will march from Judd and Sumpter roads to the Sumpter Community Center via Sumpter Road.

Leading the parade of more than 40 units on Saturday will be grand marshals Peter and Nancy Kirchner, Sumpter Rodeo Queen Teresa Barrett and the two members of her court, Liberty Belle Seaver and Sarah Bardell. Also featured in the parade will be Veronica Watson, the 1991 Belleville Strawberry Festival Queen.

The Shriner's Club, Vietnam Veterans Post 310, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Ex-Prisoners of War also will be in the parade, along with six antique cars and participants from the senior citizen clubs, day care centers, dance classes and a kitchen band. Fire departments from Sumpter Township, Wayne and Carleton and the Belleville Police Department also will participate in the parade.

Horses from various riding clubs, horsemen's associations and show clubs will be featured along with a team of mules.

Parade Coordinator Mary Bardell said the parade also will feature 2-year-old David and 4-year-old Andrew Crawford, both of whom have won children's modeling awards and titles. Among the dignitaries in the parade will be 34th District Court Judge Felix Rogalle, Bardell said.

Slated again this year at the annual Sumpter Country Fest will be the International Professional Rodeo Association-sanctioned Wagon Wheel championship rodeo, entertainment by country singer Tracey Lynne, music from country to rock by the Strings 'n' Things Band and a smashing performance by the USA Demolition Derby.

A Saturday night fireworks display is scheduled after the rodeo performance.

Sumpter Township Supervisor Marvin Banotai announced that an amateur boxing match will be featured during the festival.

"The event is something that hasn't been done before in this area, and I think it will really be a popular attraction," Banotai said. "I saw my first amateur boxing match a short while ago, and I really was impressed with it. I am sure the boxing match will be a hit."

"The Country Fest will be bigger and better than ever this summer, and many novel ideas are being added to the schedule of events," said Mary Kalasz, rodeo chairwoman.

A fashion show and gospel singing event are planned by Sheena Green and Christy Darty. In addition, an amateur night is also in the planning stage, according to Nancy Kirchner.

From July 19 through 21, live bands, a carnival, chili cook-off, casino, dancing, pony pulls, kiddie tractor pulls and other events are slated.

The schedule of events for the three-day festival includes the following activities and performers:

- July 19, Carnival, 5 p.m. to 11 p.m.; Dill Rods new wave group from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.; bingo from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m.;

Metro shops boast lowest prices

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

If you've visited gift shops at Detroit Metro Airport lately, you may not have believed your eyes.

Thanks to a unique contract with a recently merged firm, Detroit Metro's news, gift and specialty shops now charge the lowest prices in the nation.

"One of the most frequent complaints we have heard from airport patrons is that prices on simple items were too high," said Edward H. McNamara, Wayne County executive. "The expiration of this news and gift contract provided us with the opportunity to do something about that."

No longer will shoppers have to pay 79 cents for a pack of gum, instead they can pay a quarter.

Eighty cent candy bars are now only 49 cents, and pack of cigarettes that used to cost $2.49 will cost for $1.82 including tax. Film batteries, aspirin and paperback books have also been reduced as well as many other "necessity" items.

But only at Detroit Metro Airport, so if you're flying out, check to make sure you have everything you need before you get on the plane because Chicago's O'Hare charges 90 cents for that 25-cent pack of gum, and so do many other airports.

How can Metro make such a dramatic price change, you ask?

Well, Metro Ventures, Inc., a Michigan-based Disadvantaged Business Enterprise firm has teamed with Paradies Airport Shops, the largest airport retailer, to form a joint business called Paradies-Metro Ventures, Inc. Together, they are taking a drastically reduced percentage on "necessity" items in return for a commitment by the retailer to charge low prices.

"The County's criteria in its request for proposals on this contract is what makes this work," said Lou Bottino, Paradies regional vice president. "Detroit Metro Airport is pioneering a concept which may spread across the country."

But for now one fact remains. Detroit Metro Airport shops are selling items at unbelievably low prices. So if you forget that important item, never fear. Just stop by on your way through the airport and pick it up.

Veterans memorial slated for city

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus Rotary Club is looking for support and suggestions in member's endeavors to pay tribute to men and women of the United States Armed Forces.

Their plan is to construct a 12-foot monument in recognition of past, present and future soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines, but the club members still need some aid with the approximately $25,000 project.

"We're looking for donations of any size to help make this project a reality," said Bill Crane, Rotary Club president-elect.

"Our city needs some sort of tribute to those who have lost their lives for our country, as well as those just willing to serve," said David McCrory, a Rotary member. "This monument an excellent way for us to show our appreciation."

With groundbreaking planned for later this year, and construction to begin in spring, the club hopes to unveil the monument on July 4, 1992. Plans are to place the monument near the City Hall off of Wayne Road.

It will be a 12-foot high, 7-foot wide, two-sided granite monument surrounded by a concrete apron. Twelve-inch bronze service emblems will be placed on both sides of the structure, as will a Rotary Club and VFW Club emblem of the same size. A U.S. flag and a Michigan state flag will fly in honor near the monument, with lighting, benches and a sidewalk welcoming onlookers to the display.

"The Romulus Progressive Club has already donated $1,000 for the first of the eight service emblems to be placed on the monument," said Crane. "We now need donations for the other seven."

The club plans to ask local service clubs for a pledge, and raffles, dances and other fund-raising events are being planned for the near future to help with the cause. Donations from any other source are also welcome, Crane said.

"We would also like to have the oldest veteran in Romulus present for the ground-breaking later this year, so if anyone knows who that may be, please give us a call," said McCrory.

Any donations, information or suggestions may be addressed to Bill Crane at 941-9200.

Drug task force
makes an impact

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

When a group of caring, hard-working, influential people get together, one thing is guaranteed -something will be accomplished.

Although they started six years ago with no funds and no idea where to begin, they have come a long way and have definitely made a difference to people in Romulus and surrounding communities.

They are the Mayor's Drug Task Force and their impact has been seen both subtly and in neon colors.

"We got together to see what we could do about the problem of drugs," said Mayor Beverly McAnally. "It surprises most people to see how much we've done in this time."

From surveys regarding community problems to influence in the implementation of a $120,000 rehabilitation program, the group works to make the public aware of the problem of drugs, helping them to abstain or recover.

"The task force offers an informal forum for any concerned citizens in the community to discuss where problems lie, and what can be done to take care of those problems," said Doug Plant, clinical services supervisor for the Romulus Help Center and an active participant in the Mayor's Drug Task Force.

The group is funded through state substance abuse programs and from private sources and donations. One of the biggest contributors during the years has been the Romulus Police Department Command Officers Association, organizers of the annual Mayor's Drug Task Force Golf Tournament.

"This was the fourth year we've held the tournament to benefit anti-drug campaigns and we're glad we can help the Mayor's Drug Task Force," said Sgt. Detective Dan Snyder, president of the Command Officers Association. "It's a great organization and a great cause to support."

"I think the unique part about the organization is that we're geared more toward increasing self-esteem than drug awareness," said Plant. "If a person believes in themselves, drugs could be a secondary thing."

Because of the influence of the group, programs such as the Youth Assistance and "Drugs in the Workplace," have begun, and taken off in full swing.

"They're offshoots of ideas originally developed in the task force meetings, and they've been very successful," Plant said.

"A lot of good ideas have come through the meetings, and whenever those of us with resources can help, we do all we can," he said.

"Since our beginning in 1985, we've initiated 15 or 20 major programs dealing with substance abuse awareness and prevention," McAnally said. "It seems we've made a great impact, and we plan to continue to do all we can, and to encourage others to do all they can, to take care of the needs of the people in our community."

The task force meets once a month and invites anyone concerned to join them. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Aug 13 in the Community Conference Room at City Hall.

Man found not guilty

Wayne County Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Vera Jones found a Dearborn Heights man not guilty June 27 for allegedly sexually assaulting a 14-year-old Wayne resident last August.

On March 27, Frank W. Roe, 34, went before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold on two counts of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree. During the court examination, one count against Roe was dropped.

A not-guilty plea was entered for Roe during his March 1 arraignment. Bond was set at $15,000 with 10 percent down, according to Wayne Deputy Director John Colligan.

Second-degree criminal sexual assault is a felony charge which establishes no penetration occurred, Colligan said.

There are often promotional air fares to California, a destination which rates high on the "must see" travel list. Lots of California bound travelers have relatives they're going to visit, but it's not uncommon to combine a family visit with additional sightseeing.

Of course, the type of sightseeing depends upon your personal interests and time limitations, but this summary state offers dozens of options. The fly/drive advocates might use city packages and take local tours; those who don't want to drive can take a variety of all inclusive tours.

Among the options are three day tours between San Francisco and Los Angeles via Santa Clara, San Jose, Carmel, the 17-mile drive, Monterey, Big Sur, Hearst Castle, San Luis Obispo, the Danish community of Svang and Santa Barbara. These tours operate in both directions so we can book your flights accordingly and you won't have to back track.

There are longer tours which include San Diego, Harbor Island and even go into Tijuana, Mexico. You might also want to consider combining city packages with the loungecar tours to customize your vacation at reasonable package prices.

If California has been your travel dream, let us help you make it come true.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON — A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named produce Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry. Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a prescription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Copies of the referenced style are available free from National Dietary Research, Suite 553, 1377 K St., Washington, DC 20005, however, please include $2 Postage & Handling for each request. ©1990 Omicron International

Storm is responsible for history-making outage

A record number of Detroit Edison customers lost power due to the severe thunderstorms that ripped through southeast Michigan last Sunday evening.

Many homes and businesses on the south side of Westland and the north side of Wayne were without power until Wednesday afternoon.

"We had a total of 647,000 customers without power in our entire service area," said Scott Simons, spokesperson for Detroit Edison.

The service area Simons referred to included customers who live in an area between Bay City down to Monroe County and parts of Ingham County.

About 80,000 western Wayne County residents within the Wayne-Monroe division were without power, Simons said. As of Friday morning, 775 customers were still without power. Until the storm Sunday, the record number of outages occurred during an ice storm that hit the metropolitan area in 1976.

"That storm affected 373,000 customers, many of whom were without power for 16 days," he said.

Detroit Edison officials had to depend on neighboring states to send additional manpower. "We had 52 crews come in from Indiana and Illinois, he said.

"Whenever we have a big storm, other utilities send us some people. We have a reciprocal agreement," Simons said.

Simons reported that four people were electrocuted by down lines, but only one person was electrocuted by a Detroit Edison line.

"There was a 6-year-old girl in Hazel Park who was electrocuted," he said. "In that situation we had taped off an alley and at one end the tape was taken down."

The other three fatalities were in Detroit where most customers receive service from Detroit Public Utility, according to Simons.

"When we experience bad storms, we usually have about 1,000 locations where wires are down," he said. "After this storm, we had 4,200 locations where lines were down."

Not all Detroit Edison customers were happy to see repair crews in their neighborhoods.

"We had one man who refused to let the crew in his yard," he said. "His neighbors weren't too happy about that."

The 70 mph winds snapped utility poles in half, which created more problems for Detroit Edison workers.

Detroit Edison officials thanked customers for being so patient. "We appreciate their cooperation," he said. "When a storm of this nature comes along we react as soon as possible."

Seeing red

When pollution turned the waters of the Rouge River red earlier this month, there were several people who saw exactly the same shade of crimson.

These people were angry.

That reaction seems entirely justified in light of the hundreds of hours local volunteers have spent in the Rouge Rescue project attempting to clean and preserve the waterway. Area residents have volunteered their time, energy and, in some cases money, in this effort to revitalize the river.

When news of a chemical spill reached the public, these volunteers, their families and many who supported the effort were aghast that such a travesty could occur. After spending four hours waist-deep in the freezing water pulling tree stumps from the shoreline and hauling years of accumulated garbage and debris from the water, people were in no mood to be charitable or forgiving when the river was threatened.

The reaction of members of the Inkster City Council was swift and sure. These city officials wasted no time in recognizing the serious and wide-ranging effects the news of an insult to the integrity of the Rouge might have.

City officials reached Wayne County offices, the Department of Natural Resources and authorized workers from their own Department of Public Works and fire department to take whatever steps necessary and available to clean up the water.

When Inkster resident Dan Williams told the council members about sighting the red dye in the water, he unleashed their concern and immediate attention in the matter.

On behalf of the hundreds of local volunteers who spent those countless hours and incalculable energy in efforts to clean the Rouge, we express our sincere appreciation and regard for those who acted so quickly and so efficiently to preserve the work which had been done.

Perhaps, if this concern and attitude had existed years ago, none of this work would have been necessary. Now that it is, it is gratifying to know that those in office appreciate the importance and significance of the effort involved.

Life in the fishbowl

Kathleen Chorbagian wants to keep her private life private. Imagine that.

Mrs. Chorbagian announced her desire to keep what she considers her private decisions out of the public forum recently at a meeting of the members of the Wayne-Westland school board, where she serves as a trustee. A member of the audience questioned Mrs. Chorbagian's rumored decision to send her 10th grade daughter to parochial school rather than have her attend classes in the Wayne-Westland district.

Is this a private matter when Mrs. Chorbagian is a member of the school board? Does it impact on her ability to serve if she chooses to send her daughter to private school rather than have her educated within the district? Would this speak loudly to Mrs. Chorbagian's real opinions about her own ability to manage the district and the level of confidence she may or may not have regarding the quality of education provided by the district where she is charged with the welfare of students?

It could. But, we are reminded that Kathy Chorbagian has always been a strong supporter of the educational programs proposed within the Wayne-Westland district. Mrs. Chorbagian has also been an outspoken advocate of the millage renewals and bond issues which she judged as necessary to provide extra-curricular activities and athletics for students in the district. Mrs. Chorbagian has never stinted in her support of both the textbook and extra-curricular education necessary to produce well-rounded and college-bound students.

We are well aware, as is Mrs. Chorbagian, that in two years the present millage renewal in the Wayne-Westland district will expire. It took four ballot proposals and months and months of arguing and campaigning to obtain voters' approval of the money this time. If her daughter is approaching 10th grade, this funding will expire when the young woman reaches her senior year in high school. It would be then that the district students would again face the drastic cuts experienced earlier this year in music, arts, books, gym, sports and so many other areas.

While Mrs. Chorbagian has not confirmed or denied any decision to move her daughter out of the district, should she choose to do so we would not interpret that as an indication of her lack of confidence in the Wayne-Westland school system.

It might, however, be a clear indication of her lack of confidence in the voters there and in the political climate which has pervaded the district for so many years.

And as for this being a private matter she wishes to keep private, we would admire any office-holder of Mrs. Chorbagian's experience who could imagine that public office allows for the slightest semblance of privacy.

Mrs. Chorbagian is absolutely correct. This is a private decision of the Chorbagian family. Unfortunately, political office-holders are not allowed that luxury.

Ban on garage sale signs unwise

To the editor:

There are a lot of people in Westland that enjoy going to garage sales. By taking the signs down at the corners, we will not know where they are.

Why not fine people who don't take their signs down instead of making it so hard to even have a garage sale?

Voters thanked

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the voters of the Wayne-Westland School District. The record turnout at the polls shows that we have a community that cares. I would hope that this same caring that brought them to the polls on June 10th will continue through the years. We need an INVOLVED COMMUNITY, a RESPONSIBLE ADMINISTRATION and a RESPONSIBLE SCHOOL BOARD. It is my hope that we will work toward these goals in the next four years. I thank the public for giving me the opportunity to be a part of this exciting time in the Wayne-Westland School District. I also want to thank them for their support, confidence and encouragement throughout my school board campaign. Together we can make a difference!

Vickie Welty

Discrepancy claimed in school figure

To the editor:

The Wayne-Westland school budget hearing on June 19, 1991 revealed many interesting pieces of information.

Not only did it indicate that a lane duck board was intent on

"ramming through everything it could" prior to July 1, but the figures issued now do not match those given by the board prior to the millage election.

Their 1990-91 budget projected revenues of $73.2 million, but now we are told the revenues received were $75.9 million. That's $2.7 MORE than anticipated.

That same budget projected expenditures of $75.2 million. Now we are told that next year's budget will increase 11.3 percent to $85.1 million. An increase of 11.3 percent means that the expenditures were really $76.5 million. That's $1.3 million more than anticipated.

However, the most disturbing information revealed at the hearing is the fact that the school officials expect to have a fund balance of $6.5 million at the end of the next fiscal year, compared to a $2.3 million at the end of 1990-91.

Prior to each of the four millage elections, the school officials kept saying that there would be little or zero fund balance at the end of the 1990-91 school year. Now there is a fund balance of $2.3 million.

Every junior high school student who was cheated out of six classes;

Every student who was cheated out of expressive arts;

Every athlete who deceived into "pay-for play;"

Every custodian who worked short-handed;

Every secretary who was out of work;

Every administrator who was released;

Every school which shared a principal;

Every John Glenn sleep-in, parade-marcher who was used as a pawn;

Every "yes" voter who was deceived,

SHOULD BE "HOPPIN' MAD".

$2.3 million could have restored many student programs, provided many athletic programs, called back some laid-off workers, brought back some expressive arts and generally met some unfulfilled student needs. What callous, arrogant pride and lack of concern for the kids. This they did FOR KIDS and TO KIDS.

THE SAME PEOPLE WHO PERPETRATED this deceit continue to keep their jobs and continue to deceive with arrogance. The superintendent, the cabinet and the board members which led the way should be REPLACED immediately if integrity is ever restored.

They wonder why the citizens accuse them of lack of credibility and honesty. Maybe it's the new math. Or maybe it's the old shell game. Whatever it is, the auditor's report will make interesting reading this year.

Inkster sprinter captures international spotlight

Tyus wins gold medal in Austria

Thanks to a community-effort, Lacreia Tyus got her chance to go to Europe and compete in track.

And the 17-year-old Inkster High School junior didn't disappoint her backers.

Tyus returned home from Austria and an European tour with a gold medal in the 200-meter dash and a silver for her performance in the 100-meters.

"She is just one tremendous athlete," said Inkster Track Club coach Keith Bailey, who has been working with the young sprinter during the summer. "She has the potential of developing into a premier sprinter."

Tyus, who was able to join a U.S. Junior Olympic Team thanks to the contributions of residents and businessmen and women, won her gold in Innsbruck.

Tyus spent a week in France and Germany, training with the premier young athletes of the continent before returning home.

"You know, we would like to thank all of those who helped make this trip possible for Lacreia," Bailey said. "And I am sure that we will continue to hear about her accomplishments as she progresses in her career."

Lynn nips Michigan dash mark

If 13-year-old Charnell Lynn can repeat what she did in Howell on Saturday she will own a national record.

What Lynn did do, however, gave her the state record for the 100- meters dash.

The Blanchette Middle School sprinter ran a 12.1 at the Hershey Track & Field Championship to establish a state record for the event for 13-14 year olds. She erased the previous mark of 12.8

established in 1986 by Renee Pardon of Grand Rapids.

"She was fantastic," said coach Keith Bailey. "This is one young sprinter that will own all kind of records before she is through."

Lynn's performance eclipsed the national record (12.2), however, in order to claim the national crown for the event she must compete in a national tournament.

Lynn will be attending Inkster High School in September and is expected to give the Vikings a tremendous boost in track next spring. Lynn, who was representing the Inkster Parks and Recreation at the meet, will probably receive an invitation to compete in the nationals scheduled for later this summer in Hershey, Penn.

Undefeated champs

For the Royals it was a dream season. For the rest of the Westland Youth Athletic Association Pony League it was a nightmare. The Royals breezed through the regular season finishing with a perfect 12-0. Three games and a championship victory over the Pirates later put the final touches on their undefeated year. The 13 team members on the champion Royals are Jason Miracle (front row, from left), Eric Stanley, Rob Pace, Matt Baltz, Chad Kellums, Jim Schmidt; second row are manager Mike Gates, Russ Turner, Ben Traver, Dave Massey, Jason Billings and Todd Peterson. World softball champs play for Anderson title

By DION PRATER
ANP Special Writer

Friday may seem like only an ordinary day this week. However to 16 softball teams it is an opportunity to strut their stuff in the prestigious Len Anderson Memorial Softball Invitational. The tournament will be played at the Anderson fields located behind the Wayne Community Center, Howe and Annapolis roads.

The invitational this year is of all-star quality. There is P.K. & J. Trucking, the defending champs, and six-time ASA Master's World Champions Nothdurft Tool of Mount Clemens.

Also in the field of battle are four of the first-place teams in the area leagues including Lou's Softball Club, Little Bill's Trophies both of Wayne, and Frankie's of Garden City and Dearborn Heights. The league champions from Monroe make an appearance as Sotillies tries its best to win it all. Randy's/Greg's has come all the way from the Lone Star state of Texas.

Other teams in the field range from the area to Southfield and Redford. Canton is represented by the EBS Softball Club. Hailing from Westland are Golden Tanning and Westland Merchants. Adray Sound and Ford Adray both of Dearborn, Skone's Place of Romulus, Conrad's of Southfield and Law Auto of Redford complete the field.

Anderson, one of the finest all-around athletes the area has produced, started in three sports at Westland John Glenn. He excelled in football, basketball and baseball during his high school career. After graduation he joined the police force where he was slain while responding to a domestic dispute in 1974.

On Friday the umpire will shout "Play Ball" at 6:15 to start the Tournament. It will continue until 10. Play resumes on Saturday at 8 a.m. and continues until 8 p.m. In between the action on Saturday a home run derby will start at 4:30 p.m. The action heats up on Sunday as the teams that survive the first two days will start at 9 a.m. with the championship game beginning at 3:15 p.m.

Admission to the games is free as well as a party on Saturday after the completion of all games. There will be refreshments as well as music provided at the party. It is being sponsored by tournament sponsors PK&J Trucking Softball Club and the Wayne Parks and Recreation.

Tennis tourney, anyone?

There will be competition for juniors, 17 and under, in singles and doubles; adult singles, doubles and mixed doubles; over 35 singles and doubles, and masters (over 50) singles.

There is a small entry fee. Trophies will be awarded to winners.

The tournament finals will be staged on Aug. 18, also at the Recreation Complex.

There is a 6 p.m. Aug. 8 registration deadline, and first-round pairings will be conducted Aug. 14.

City Championship Golf tournament registration begins

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

There are 15 days remaining for amateur women and men golfers to sign up for the 32nd annual City Championship Golf Tournament.

The deadline to submit entries is 5 p.m. Aug. 2.

The popular summer classic will be conducted the weekend of Aug. 10-11 at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton Township.

"If this thing keeps to tradition, we will get a last-minute rush of registrations," said Bill Hawley, tournament director. "However, we would prefer that the golfers get their entries to us as soon as possible so we can set up foursomes and tee times."

The tournament is open to all men and for the first time women residing in the cities of Wayne, Westland, Romulus, Inkster and Romulus. The tournament is cosponsored by the recreation departments of the participating cities and The Associated Newspapers.

Separate city championships are staged simultaneously with trophies going to the first, second and third-place finishers in each of the flights. There will be additional flights conducted only if the total entry of a city warrants it.

And in case of a tie for a trophy, there will be a "sudden death" playoff to determine the winner.

Golfers will play 18-holes on Saturday and return for the championship finals on Sunday. There will be an additional trophy awarded to the individual low scorer of the entire field - the medalist.

Wayne golfers will also be competing for the Patrolman Lenny Anderson Memorial Trophy, presented to the medalist of the Wayne championship flight. Patrolman Anderson was the first Wayne police officer slain in the line of duty in that city.

Golfers will also be competing for berths on their respective city or township team that will compete in the state parks and recreation finals. The low five scorers from each city are eligible to play on that team, but you must be a bona fide resident of the city you represent. All other golfers will become alternates in order of finish.

There is a $45 entry fee that covers green fees and prizes.

To enter, please fill out the registration form accompanying this story. Mail it (or drop it off) and the $45 check to: Associated Newspapers, City Golf Tournament, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Please make checks payable to Bill Hawley.

Golfers who need further information may contact ANP staff writer Tom Mooradian at 729-4000 during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

Tee times will be published in the ANP sports section the week of the tournament.

Seven steps to finding a family physician
who's right for you

By Rajesh C. Gulati, M.D.

Your family physician is a skilled advisor when you want to stay healthy and an important ally when you are ill or injured.

Beyond diagnosing and treating common ailments, a family physician protects you by preventing or detecting major health problems. Periodic physical exams allow your physician to note changes in your health, leading to early detection and prompt treatment.

If you are ill, your physician consults with specialists and, if necessary, refers you to another doctor for more intense care. Even so, your personal physician guides and coordinates your care.

LONG-TERM RELATIONSHIP

Because you expect a long relationship with your family physician, you should select your doctor wisely. Here are some tips to consider when you're seeking a new family physician:

- Convenience. Your physician's office should be close to home for easy access. Office hours should fit your schedule.

- Comfort. You must be comfortable with your doctor. You need to talk freely about problems that may affect your health.

- Credentials. Your physician should have the proper education, experience, and professional affiliations. Generally, a physician on staff at an accredited hospital meets acceptable standards and qualifications.

- Specialties. It is beneficial if your physician has a special interest in the kinds of health problems you may be encountering. For example, some family doctors have particular expertise in caring for women, athletes, or older adults.

- References. Your family, friends, or another trusted physician are good resources in helping to find a family doctor. Another source is a hospital-sponsored physician referral service.

- Referrals. You should be confident your family physician will work within his or her capabilities and, if the need arises, will refer you to an appropriate specialist in a timely manner.

- Fees. Before you see a new physician, ask about costs and payment. Check to see whether your insurance is accepted.

ASK QUESTIONS
Don't be shy about asking questions of your doctor or the office staff. Most family physicians encourage discussion of these concerns and others with their patients.

Chevrolet GEO Tracker proves attractive to buyers

By BARBARA GOFFMAN
ANP Staff Writer

Two years ago most Americans thought GEO was a shorter way to spell George. Today, they know GEO is the fastest-growing import-based brand of small car in the country, said Dave Hudgens, spokesman for GEO.

And locally, they've made the 1991 Tracker the most popular GEO at Jack Webb in Ypsilanti, said Tom Gillies, new car sales manager.

People are drawn to the car because it is a convertible, Gillies said.

"They love the feeling of driving that vehicle with no roof, letting the wind hit your hair," he said.

Most Tracker buyers are young people, Gillies said, including first-time buyers and college graduates. The ratio of male-to-female buyers is evenly split at 50-50.

Individualizing the Tracker is popular, Gillies added. People add pink windshield wipers to make the car stand out, and they dress up the exterior with stripes, splashes, waves or clouds. To accommodate aesthetic preferences, Jack Webb has a painter who can sit down with buyers to design the stripe they desire. These designs are encouraged by the makers of GEO who eliminated all trim features from the Tracker sides so custom paint jobs could easily be completed, Hudgens said.

The 1991 Tracker is a two-wheel drive vehicle, GEO also makes the standard Tracker and the luxury four-wheel drive LSi. All Trackers except the LSi models feature bold model identification on the side of the car in either bright green or orange, depending upon the exterior color of the car. The 1991 Tracker also sports rear anti-lock brakes and Scotchguard fabric protector for seats and door trim.

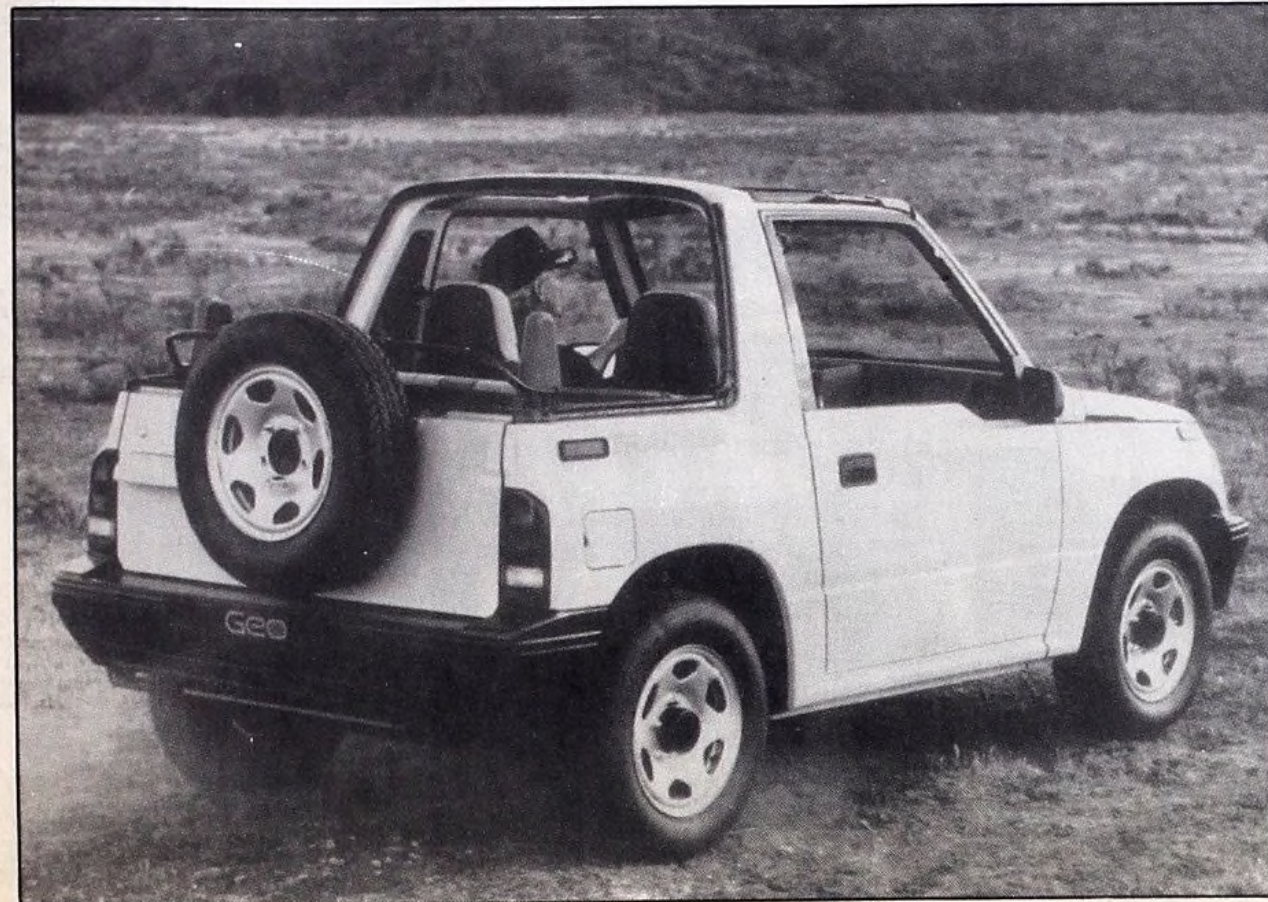

Standard features of the car include a 1.6L EFI four-cylinder engine and a five-speed manual transmission.

The 1991 Tracker begins at $8,900, Gillies said, but the price could rise to as much as $14,000 if many options are added. The most popular options are cassette recorders, air conditioning, power steering and aluminum or alloy wheels, he said.

One thing the new 1991 Tracker doesn't have is four-wheel drive. But people who want a Tracker that handles well on all terrains and who are willing to spend a little more still can be satisfied at Jack Webb, Gillies said, by looking at the LSi, which offers a three-speed automatic transmission as an option.

GEOs are made in Canada by the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors.

They are the fourth-best sellers among so-called import based cars, Hudgens said.
